Winter Edition

How do we reach the homosexual community?

How will we win the homosexuals to the kingdom of God? Many believe they win by slamming the gays and lesbians, picketing at GLBT events. Some believe they should witness and preach the word of God.

I believe we need to love and pray for the homosexual community. We will win this battle on our knees before the Lord. I know first hand that prayer works, because two friends prayed for me while I was away from God. When God called me out of homosexuality, I lived with a family whose love and prayers helped transform my life.

The Bible says the fields are already ripe for harvest (John 4:35). If we would pray for homosexuals, we will see them come to the knowledge of Christ.

Galatians 5:22 says the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness. My pastor said change is a process and waiting is never fun. Waiting is being constructive in attitude and conversation. God will put people in your life to help you wait. Paul said whatever state you're in be content. (Philippians 4:11) Make a choice to be content in your circumstances while you wait for your loved one to be called out of homosexuality. Know and believe that Jesus Christ will enable you to do anything He asks of you. What is impossible for people is possible with God! (Luke 18:27)

I did this so you would trust not in human wisdom but in the power of God. (1 Corinthians 2:5)

Janet Boynes Ministry

With 2008 upon us, may this year be filled with God's peace, love, and strength to make the best decisions for your self and family!

Thank you for your e-mails! It's amazing to hear from so many of you from around the country. As more correspond with me and share their stories, it helps me to know our prayers are being answered. A number of individuals and organizations have asked for support, direction, and resources to help their family members come out of homosexuality.

Your prayers for JBM ministries are very much needed.
